LEALTANZA RESERVA SELECCION ESPECIAL 2004. RIOJA.

Varieties: 100% Tempranillo (40 year old vines)

Appellation: Rioja Alta

AGING: 18 months in French oak casks

When Oscar Martinez started making wine at Bodegas Altanza in 1998 he was hardly new to making wine. Oscar is the third generation of well respected family of winemakers in Rioja. Altanza has 120 Has planted with Tempranillo around Fuenmayor, in the center of Rioja Alta.

Tempranillo is the only varietal planted in the Estate. Yields are kept low, well below the the 6500 kg/Ha limit in Rioja. All grapes are handpicked in small cases and quickly taken to the winery. Only native yeasts are used. Malolactic is done in large Allier oak vats. The large Allier vats are also used to store the wine prior to bottling. The wine is only slightly filtered before being bottled.

Red wine produced with Grenache, Carignan, Syrah and Cabernet Sauvignon. Matured in French and American oak barrels during 12 months. Meaty and delicate, it fills the mouth with a pleasant sensation of ripe red fruits and then opens spicy and balsamic notes. Soft and pleasant tannins are appearing last in the mouth. Great variety of sensations.
